THE MENTAL HEALTH FOUNDATION OF WEST MICHIGAN

be nice. CAMPAIGN FOR SCHOOLS

OUR MISSION: To spread awareness surrounding the issues of bullying and the importance of treating people with civility community-wide. By creating awareness, we will minimize and reduce the devastating effects of bullying such as depression and suicide. You can call it what you want: respectful, courteous, polite, mindful, caring, nurturing, graceful, civil. But it all adds up to being nice.

OUR VISION: That schools, the workplace and the greater community will exemplify the principles of be nice. and put an end to the physical and emotional trauma caused by bullying.

DESCRIPTION: Within schools, be nice. is a positive anti-bullying initiative designed to create awareness of the negative effects of bullying. Suicide, one devastating effect of bullying, is the 2nd leading cause of death among adolescents in Kent County and the 3rd leading cause of death among adolescents nationally. Bullying is a significant issue within our schools and communities both locally and nationally. The be nice. campaign strives to educate students about how simply “being nice” is an effective way to promote a safe and civil environment within the school and community.

ABOUT THE be nice. CAMPAIGN

WHO: Any elementary, middle, high school or college campus that wants to end bullying and support the be nice. initiative within their school community.

WHERE: Within participating school and college campuses.

WHEN: Each school will choose a date for their be nice. day or week and tailor be nice. activities to the needs of their students, faculty, and community.

HOW: Schools may choose their unique level of participation in be nice. by contacting the Mental Health Foundation of West Michigan. Please see next page for descriptions.

WHY be nice.:

- Nearly 1 out of 4 kids, over 5.7 million, in the United States are directly impacted by bullying.
- Children and youth who are bullied are more likely than other children to be depressed, lonely, anxious, have low self-esteem, feel unwell, and think about suicide (Limber, 2002; Olweus, 1993).
- A victim of bullying is twice as likely to take his or her own life compared to someone who is not a victim (National Association of School Psychiatrists (NASP), 2011).
- To be nice. is more than just saying don’t bully. The be nice. campaign is based upon a strengths-based perspective and uses a more positive approach to minimizing bullying in schools and community-wide.

We have learned over the years that ignoring bullies or just telling them to “Stop” are negative and ineffective approaches to stopping bully behaviors. By creating a day or celebrating the idea of be nice., we can proactively encourage and recognize acts of kindness among students and their peers.
Each school has the opportunity to build a be nice. event based on that school’s needs.

☐ ONE HOUR be nice. ASSEMBLY $250.00
One-hour assembly introducing the be nice. concept. Promotes awareness of the devastating effects of bullying on wellness and mental health. Assembly Includes:

- Short anti-bullying video
- Skits about bullying and how to respond to bullying performed by be nice. facilitators
- Fun activities that encourage student interaction
- Testimonials from individuals who have personal experiences with bullying

☐ TWO HOUR be nice. ASSEMBLY $500.00
Two-hour be nice. assembly including components of the one hour assembly PLUS:

- Break out session with students led by be nice. facilitators
  - Students will participate in team building activities, discussions about acceptance, and guided development of daily activities they feel are relevant and engaging for a be nice. week in their school
  - Students may be chosen from each smaller group to develop a skit, rap, or dance about bullying to be presented at the end of the assembly
- Students will reconvene at the end of the breakout session to present ideas from each group for a week of be nice. in their school.
- Facilitators wrap up the session with an empowering message to students about “being nice” and ending bullying in their school and community.
- Facilitators and staff from the Mental Health Foundation will compile these ideas into a comprehensive and FUN be nice. spirit week for the participating school.
